U. S. POLICY IN MEXICO AWAITED

President to Make Announcement of First Step During Day.

Peaceable Solution of Difficulty Is Becoming More Practicable.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Armed intervention in Mexico neither is a probability nor a possibility because a peaceable solution of the difficulty is becoming more practicable. This, the President took today of the situation. He left it to be known, too, that before the end of the day he would make a brief announcement of the first step in the policy of the United States toward Mexico. While no inkling of what it would be came from the White House, it was expected that the President would formally announce his decision not to recognize the Huerta government.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Secretary of State Bryan today announced the acceptance of the resignation of Henry Lane Wilson as Ambassador to Mexico.

Secretary Bryan made the following statement: "Ambassador Wilson's resignation has been accepted to take effect October 14. The part which he felt it his duty to take in the earlier stages of the recent revolution in Mexico would make it difficult for him to represent the views of the present administration in view of the situation which now exists."

The ambassador in the ordinary practice is entitled to six days leave exclusive of Sundays, which accounts for the fixing of the date of October 14 in the announcement. In the meantime no appointment can be made of a successor as a vacancy will not exist until that date. Consequently the American Ambassador in Mexico will remain in charge of Secretary O'Shaughnessy, corresponding in status with the Mexican embassy in the city of Washington, which is now conducted by Charge Alcala.

WILSON WAS SUMMONED. The announcement followed a conference with Secretary Bryan to which Mr. Wilson had been summoned from New York by telegraph. Earlier Mr. Wilson broadly intimated that he expected his resignation would be accepted almost any time and pointed out that he had tendered it three times since March 4th.

The resignation will be followed by an announcement of policy toward Mexico by President Wilson. No intimation of what the announcement would be was permitted to leak out, but there were assurances that armed intervention was out of the question.

CLOUDBURST BURIES RAILROAD TRACKS

Gravel and Boulders Cover S. P. Line in Nevada.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 4.—For a distance of 1000 feet the Southern Pacific tracks at Thibbe, Nevada, 19 miles east of Sparks, are buried beneath gravel and boulders, some of them weighing as much as ten tons, washed over the right-of-way last night by a violent cloudburst. Travel on the Salt Lake division, the company announced here today, will be delayed 12 hours or more. It is estimated that work is in sight to keep 500 men busy ten hours. One hundred are already at work and are being hurried to Thibbe as fast as they can be gathered.

ORDERS CUT IN EXPRESS RATES

Commerce Commission Makes Sweeping Reductions.

Revision Will Cost Companies $26,000,000 a Year.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Reductions in express rates which will cost the companies fully $26,000,000 a year, approximately 16 per cent of their gross revenue, were ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission to become effective on or before October 15, 1913. Notable reforms in practices also were ordered.

The most important changes prescribed by the order is by way of modification of the present graduated scale of parcel rates. One hundred pound rates for short distances either have been left unchanged or lightly reduced; for longer distances they have been lowered; for fifty pounds or less all rates have been reduced. For packages of more than four pounds going more than 200 miles and less than 2000 the new express rates are generally lower than the parcel post rates; for more than 3,000 miles the rates are practically the same.

FINDINGS OF LANE. The report and order of the commission prepared by Commissioner John Marshall are a virtual affirmation of the findings of former Commissioner Franklin K. Lane, now secretary of the interior. By prescribing the so-called block system, dividing the United States into zones, the commission has reduced the nine hundred million different rates now published by the express companies will be reduced to less than 550,000 and the Interstate Commerce Commission believes the system points the way to a solution of the existing problem of freight rates.

REDUCTION FOUGHT. The express companies had filed statements indicating that the loss of revenue under the proposed rates would be intolerable and argued strenuously that the establishment of the third tier had deprived them of their per cent of the revenue they formerly received from parcels of 11 pounds or less.

They contended that the express business could not survive the losses from both sources. "This is equivalent to saying," comments Commissioner Marshall in his report, "that inasmuch as shippers have been given the convenience and economy of the parcel post, the express carries must on that account be allowed to charge higher rates than otherwise would be reasonable. That is to say, the commission is called on to take from the shippers of the country all the benefit they exercise from the parcel post and give it to the express companies in the form of

MERMAID COULDN'T SWIM, DESPITE SUIT

Wavelet Carries Alluringly Garbed Bather Into Deep Water.

When is a mermaid not a mermaid? Answer, when she can't swim. This was evolved yesterday at Surf Beach by B. J. Getchell of the county expert's office, who rescued a fair would-be mermaid from drowning. Getchell, who is an enthusiastic swimmer, was disporting himself in the briny when the maiden, alluringly attired in a fashionable bathing suit, entered the water. Working her way carefully out, she got beyond her depth and a wavelet swept her out to sea. Between mouthfuls of water she called for aid, and Getchell reached her as she sank for the third time. He hauled her ashore, where, after a few moments, she recovered. "Thank you, sir," she said, and disappeared. Other witnesses of the accident failed to learn her name.

THEIVES IN ACTIVE WORK

Bold Gang Take Rich Loot After Making Preparations.

Planned to Remove Entire Stock, But Were Frightened Off.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Burglars operating with more than ordinary ingenuity and giving evidence of being experts, made preparations to steal the entire contents of the sporting goods establishment of Clarence A. Son & Co., 1725 Fillmore street, between Saturday night and this morning and succeeded in stealing in all about $1000 worth of loot. That they did not remove $10,000 in rifles, revolvers, baseball outfits, knives and articles of all kinds, was due, apparently to their being frightened off or to their having to work under difficulties in removing the stock. The robbery was discovered this morning at 8 o'clock, when the proprietor opened the place. An investigation by Detective McGee showed the careful planning of the burglars. They hired a room in the lodging house at 1825 Post street. They were shown an apartment, but were not satisfied with it and selected one which looked on the rear of the hardware store; a ledge runs from the window to an electric pole on which are a number of climbers. The men evidently descended in this fashion to the store, which they entered by cutting a hole in a rear door secure from view. Evidently believing that they could remove the stock almost in its entirety, they took everything from the shelves and bundled them up in convenient packages. There were boxes of rifles, stacks of baseball mitts, packages of knives and oyster knives. They evidently hoisted them to their window and in this manner carried away a large quantity of loot. A half dozen upper office men are looking for the robbers, as it is believed they will try to repeat the stunt elsewhere in the city.

WILL KILL MAN WHO AIDED IN HER RUIN

Complaining Witness in Delinquency Case Attacks Defendant.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4.—Adelaide R. Tilly, complaining witness against J. P. Phelan, charged with contributing to her delinquency, attacked him as he stood near the witness stand in Judge Wilbur's court today and it took three court attendants to loosen her hold from his throat. The attack came after Phelan's attorney had asked Miss Tilly whether she had intended to kill his client when he attacked him in front of the courthouse last Saturday. "I did, and I'll kill him if it takes two years," the girl replied as she sprang for Phelan's throat. Mrs. Jane Tilly, mother of the girl, also declared she would like to kill Phelan.

Estate of $70,000,000 Left by A. N. Brady

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The will of Anthony N. Brady, the traction magnate, as made public here this afternoon, leaves to his five children and a grandchild the bulk of his estate, estimated at $70,000,000. The widow receives $1,000,000 outright and an annuity of $50,000. One hundred thousand dollars goes to charity.

GOVERNOR SAYS ENTIRE STATE FORCE IS AVAILABLE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4.—Governor Hiram Johnson wired an order to Adjutant-General E. A. Forbes at Wheatland today to call out the entire militia force of the State if necessary to protect the lives and property of the citizens of Yuba county from the riotous hop-pickers in the Wheatland section. On his arrival to attend the anniversary banquet of the progressive party tonight the Governor found waiting for him messages announcing that General Forbes had arrived at Wheatland at 2 o'clock this morning.

SALMON FISHERMEN BEGIN BIG STRIKE

4000 On Frazer River Stop Operations for Canneries.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 4.—Four thousand salmon fishermen have gone on strike on the Frazer river. On Saturday the canneries announced that the price of fish would be materially cut. Whites, Japanese and Indians have joined in the strike and have called out the Indian women who work in the canneries. One cannery had 14,000 fish left on its hands this morning without operators. Greek fishermen are the only ones not yet on strike. Japanese strike pickets early this morning attacked Greek fishermen and threw their catch overboard. At the cannery's headquarters in this city, it was alleged that the white fishermen were willing to work, but the Japanese would not let them. In several cases, it was said, Japanese had boarded white men's boats and thrown fish overboard. The cannery have appealed to the provincial government for more marine police.

Washington "Jagless" Under Rigid Excise

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The National Capital awakened today to find that during the thirty-one hours from midnight Saturday to 7 o'clock today it had been apparently a "jagless" town. Not one arrest for drunkenness had been made by the police in that time and the police court docket was a jumble of cases. The new and rigid excise law, passed by Congress was responsible for the wave of Sabbath purity.

Tenth Anniversary of Pope's Election

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Today is the tenth anniversary of the election of Pope Pius X by the conclave of 1903. It is said that the only recognition of the anniversary at this time will be special prayers for the pontiff. The anniversary of the death of Pope Pius X will be observed together, Nov. 15.

WAITER IN CAFE IS TRAPPED BY POLICE

Policemen, in Plain Clothes, Buy Drinks for Woman.

Two Oakland patrolmen, in plain clothes, seeking evidence of violation of law, were led by Myrtle Reed, alleged to be a woman of the half-world, into the Eagle cafe, 1621 Telegraph avenue, and were induced to purchase drinks for her. The two patrolmen kept up the play for a short time, and then suddenly displaying their stars, arrested Peter Scurlish, head waiter in the place for violating the liquor ordinance and placed the girl in custody on a charge of vagrancy. The Eagle cafe has been known to be under surveillance for some time, as it was rumored that the place sold liquor after closing hours. The arrest of Scurlish had its first effect in the campaign to clean up the city and saloons which have been committing persistent violations of the ordinance. The arrests last night were made by Patrolmen Feeler and Lyons. Scurlish was taken to the station and the girl on $100. They were arraigned in the police court this morning.

Woman Disappears; Police in Search

Mrs. Mary Leon, 52 years of age, came to Oakland from San Francisco to visit friends here, and has disappeared. The police have been asked to assist in a search for the aged woman, as it is feared that she has met with some accident. Mrs. Leon lived at 25 Harrington street, San Francisco, and came from that city to Oakland to visit Mrs. S. Voss, 2344 East Nineteenth street. She failed to arrive at her destination, and the police were notified. She is described as 5 feet 4 inches in height, weighing 125 pounds, any had dark gray eyes and gray hair. When last seen she wore a black dress.

Try to Assassinate Chief of Detectives

OMAHA, Aug. 4.—An unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Chief of Detectives Stephen Maloney was made early today when some unknown person fired two bullets at him as he sat in his office at the police station. Chief Maloney's office is about 100 feet from a switching track on which were standing several box cars. The two shots were fired from behind

DISTRICT ATTORNEY AND DEPUTY SHERIFF SLAIN

Suspected Murderer of District Attorney Manwell Is Placed Under Arrest by Authorities

CORRECTED LIST OF CASUALTIES

THE DEAD
E. T. MANWELL, District Attorney of Yuba county, Marysville, former Assemblyman; shot through body in region of heart.
T. RIORDAN, Deputy Sheriff, sworn in by Sheriff Voss, sheep shearer, Indian fighter; unmarried.
UNKNOWN NEGRO, one of agitators who attacked Voss; shot by Henry C. Dakin, Wheatland blacksmith.
UNKNOWN ENGLISHMAN, aged 18 years, employed at E. Clements Horst Company's hop yards; was onlooker.

THE INJURED
L. B. ANDERSON, Constable of Wheatland and Deputy Sheriff; severe scalp wound on right side of head; shot through right arm; will recover.
GEORGE H. VOSS, Sheriff of Yuba county, Marysville, former captain of Marysville militia; deep cut two inches back of right ear; right wrist injured; left ankle dislocated.
ELMER BRADSHAW, member of sheriff's posse; shot in right elbow; wound not dangerous.
NELS NELSON, employe of Horst ranch; right arm shattered by charge from shotgun; will recover.

WHEATLAND, Cal., Aug. 4.—Six companies of the National Guard of California under the personal command of Adjutant-General E. A. Forbes are patrolling the Durst hopyards which late yesterday afternoon were the scene of the killing of District Attorney E. T. Manwell of Yuba county and T. Riordan, a deputy sheriff, and a negro and an Englishman, names unknown, and the wounding of four others in a battle between a sheriff's posse and 500 frenzied hop-pickers.

Sheriff George H. Voss and Constable L. B. Anderson were among the injured. The tragic riot followed the refusal of the owners of the hop-yards to grant the request of the pickers for an increase in wages and the agitation leading thereto was taken part in by members of the Industrial Workers of the World. Five hundred of the 1700 hop-pickers on the Durst Brothers' hop left during the night.

FOUR SUSPECTS ARRESTED. Four suspects giving the names of J. Quinn, Henry Bamen Bagen, Charles Bohm and John McConnell, were arrested here this morning. They are held in the local jail. It is forecasted that the militia will be withdrawn late today. All of the injured will recover.

The tension which was near the snapping point all during the night was relieved shortly after 4 o'clock this morning when the militia arrived, Company A of Chico in command of Lieutenant Earl Turner and Company I of Oroville in command of Major H. W. White and Lieutenant G. Aldrich. Thirty minutes later Companies E and G and Troop B of Sacramento and Company D of Woodland arrived in personal command of Adjutant-General Forbes.

FEARED DERAILMENT. The trains carrying the troops from Sacramento made the trip slowly fearing that the rioters might attempt a derailment. Before the trestle south of town was crossed Troop B made an examination and found it safe. The troops are encamped at the Durst hop fields and are patrolling the yards.

Wm. Beck, hop picker, was arrested today by Chief McCoy of the Marysville police force and will be charged with the murder of E. T. Manwell, district attorney of Yuba county, in yesterday's rioting. The chief has two witnesses whose names he withholds, ready to swear they saw Beck fire three shots from an automatic pistol. The wounds in Manwell's body were made by small calibre bullets, such as are used in the most widely sold automatics.

TROOPS FORM CORDON. A cordon of troops was thrown completely around the Durst hop yards shortly before noon today and no one was allowed to enter or leave without securing permission from the adjutant general.

J. H. Durst, one of the proprietors of the yards this morning, made a statement declaring that the trouble was due principally to Industrial Workers of the World agitators. He stated that a class of men who are not regular hop pickers came as trouble makers. "We pay above the standard" declared Durst. "We pay 50 tents in the field and allow a bonus of five, ten or fifteen cents at the end of the season. This is to encourage pickers to stay with us until the end of the season.

The first event leading up to the affair came Saturday evening when a meeting of members of the 1700 pickers employed was held on the Durst farm.

At this meeting a grievance committee was named to interview R. H. Durst and demand among other things an increase of from 30 cents to $1.25 per hundred without a bonus.

CONSTABLE TELLS STORY

As to what followed, Constable L. B. Anderson, who has been here suffering from a shattered arm, gives the following graphic description:

"Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the general alarm was given by the Durst farm and R. E. Durst was held near Durst's office.

"Between 400 and 500 pickers assembled at the dance platform and marched in columns of four toward the Durst headquarters.

"When Durst advanced from his office toward the pickers, a line of force toward the pickers was formed. Durst was surrounded by the pickers. Durst was held near Durst's office.

"On the way out the pickers were three times a day, sanitary toilets and the installation of high-pipe men.

HIGHER PAY DENIED

"The pickers refused that he could have two hours if he liked.

"At the end of an hour Durst agreed to meet the demands for ice water, champagne, meat and sanitary toilets, but refused any other demands.

"Durst had, earlier in the day, discharged one of the agitators and ordered him to leave the place.

"When the man refused to go, Durst came to town and complained to me of his presence. Thereupon I accompanied him to the ranch, not stopping to get a warrant.

"On the way out we met the man, whose name, I hear, is 'Blackie' Ford. Durst suggested that I arrest him on the roadside, but I did not arrest him until we had reached the Durst holdings, at the edge of town, and found that the man had followed us to the ranch.

AGITATOR ARRESTED

"I took the man by the arm and informed him that he was under arrest. He jerked back and demanded that a warrant be served on him. I told him that I did not need a warrant as I regarded him as a trespasser.

"At this time about thirty men gathered around us. Three or four of them picked Ford over from me. They then threatened me. I told them not to get angry as I was there as the servant of the county. I suggested an amicable settlement of their trouble. This only enraged them more.

"At this time I began striking me at the same time applying vile epithets. A woman struck me with her hand. As I climbed into my automobile, satisfied that I was worsted, the man tried to pull my revolver from me and others threw rocks and other missiles at me.

SITUATION UNDER CONTROL

Within the hour drawn by the militia which arrived during this morning from Sacramento during the early hours found 1200 odd residents and transient hop pickers but the number has dwindled steadily as known trustworthy citizens were passed through the lines.

The situation is thoroughly under control and no new outbreaks are expected. It seems to be agreed that the explosion of malice and anger was spontaneous and did not result from any plot or form any part of any industrial campaign. Individual agitators may have been in part responsible but there were no plans laid for a set battle with the authorities and the strikers have no supplies or organization to withstand a siege of force on either side.

Manwell Shot While Making Peace Plea

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 4.—The bloody clash at Wheatland at 5 p. m. between Sheriff George H. Voss and a posse of ten and 400 striking hop-pickers of the Durst Brothers ranch, headed by radical members of the Industrial Workers of the World.

District Attorney Manwell, who was unarmed, is said by witnesses to the fight to have been shot down while pleading with the strikers to preserve order and retire to their camp without destroying property. Manwell was shot through the heart and died at once.

When the firing began all had been peaceful. The last words were "Keep the peace, keep the peace."

District Attorney Manwell happened to be in Wheatland on private business yesterday.

When Constable L. B. Anderson was attacked in a dance hall after refusal of R. H. Durst to pay a raise of wages to the strikers, he was ordered to the dance platform and to other demands a demand was made to the district attorney.

"Keep the peace, keep the peace," and the posse of 400 men.

The Durst ranch is located partially in the county of Butte.

It has been announced from the Southern Pacific railway superintendent's office here that the company's special police have been ordered out to protect their property.

higher rates on the remaining business.

The new system of rates is not only a simplification of existing rate methods, but in the opinion of rate experts, lays the foundation for future practice in all rate revisions.

While the commission has not considered the practicability of the application of the block system to the making of rate reductions.

With a standard freight rate once established between 100 cities instead of between points and a rate stated in percentages of the standard, the mystery of the present complicated method of making rates in the railroad industry is solved.

MERCHANDISE RATES

The basis of the classification prescribed by the commission is that all articles of merchandise of ordinary value are to be classified in first class at ordinary merchandise rates. Articles of food and drink, with few exceptions, are second class and are to be carried at 75 per cent of the first rates.

The rates for newspapers and magazines are to be carried at 75 per cent of the first rates.

Articles for which specially low rates are charged are substantially the same as the present rates.

San Francisco Conflagration Thought to Be Work of Incendiary.

SHERIFF BEATEN

It is reported that the incendiary began to abuse the sheriff and threatened arrest. Voss seized one man more violent than his fellows and started to drag him to the automobile. His friends leaped upon the sheriff and beat him unconscious. When the other deputies started to charge those in the front ranks fled.

Manwell, who was standing nearby, was fatally killed.

MRS. LAWRENCE TELLS WHY GIRL WAS ABSENT

Mrs. Orpa Lawrence, mother of Miss Audrey Lawrence, the 15-year-old girl who disappeared from custody of Miss Grace Graham, of the Probation office last Friday, appeared before Superior Judge Donahue this morning and apologized for her daughter's absence, promising to return her to the detention home today.

The girl is being held pending an investigation into her home associations, at 722 Madison street. The parents are cited to appear in the juvenile court and show cause why they should not be deprived of their daughter's guardianship.

The father was sentenced to serve four months in the county jail last Friday when he appeared in court under the charge of drunkenness.

EMBEZZLEMENT CASE OF MASTERS IS CONTINUED

The case of misdemeanor embezzlement against Ward Masters, the youth whose confession of his gambling escapades in Oakland saloons led to the exposure of Jack Healey's place and other resorts, was called in Department No. 1 of the local police court this morning, but as Masters has been taken to the County Jail as a delinquent, pending the present investigation, the case was continued until tomorrow morning, when the defendant must be brought into court.

Masters is charged with having embezzled money from his employers to gamble in local saloons.

Policewoman Uses Scornful Look to Rout the Masher

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Hatpins, clubs or whistles, like the Boston women use, are not necessary to squelch masher—a look will do it. This is the opinion expressed today by policewomen at two Chicago beaches.

One substantial, wide-eyed look, with a touch of scorn, it will send the boldest flirt about his business, they say.

LAST RITES SAID FOR OLD PIONEER

Body of Edward Newland Laid to Rest Amid Many Blossoms.

The funeral of the late Edward Newland, pioneer of this city, was conducted this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alexander Campbell, 1001 Webster street, where many friends and relatives paid their last tribute to the departed.

The rites were read by Rev. R. Carter, assistant pastor of the First Congregational Church of Oakland.

Beside the casket were a number of early settlers of California. Their aged comrades had made the voyage around the world.

Numerous floral tributes were arranged in the parlors and a system in which the tributes were held in this community. We are standing and large bouquets scented the room.

In the political and social circles, this state and surrounding area, manifested a keen interest and was a source of clean government. He gave his moral and financial support to all the forward movements of Oakland, where he lived since 1859.

Twenty-five years ago he retired from active life. He was one of the members of the Vigilance committee, which preserved peace and order during the days of the gold rush.

The deceased was one of the first men to enter the live stock business here. He was one of the expert stock raisers in the State and raised some of the finest thoroughbreds within the confines of California.

The body of Edward Newland was placed in Mount View Cemetery. The pallbearers were J. D. Hays, Fred P. Hays, B. S. Noyes, C. D. Payer, Charles Butler and Robert Dyer.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Alexander Campbell and Mrs. Eugene Neustadt, and a son, Edward A. Newland.

STREET WORK IS BEFORE COUNCIL

Routine Matters Are Put Through to Better Thoroughfares.

Routine street matters were transacted by the city council this morning as follows:

Approved diagram of assessment district for the improvement of Sixteenth street from Perilla street westward.

Directing the superintendent of streets to extend the time 30 days for the Oakland Paving company to complete the improvement of Sixteenth street between Havenscourt and East Fourteenth street.

Directing the city clerk to readvertise for bids for sidewalks on East Fourteenth street and Thirtieth street.

Accepting deed from Joseph Lewis, et al., dedicating land for street purposes.

Granting permission to John Marshall and J. A. Agnew to cut a water trough in front of 5602 East Fourteenth street.

Authorizing the bureau of permits and licenses to issue permit for five-foot cement sidewalk on Broadway avenue between Thirtieth and Thirtieth street.

Granting permission to the Oakland Paving company to pave with asphalt and otherwise improve Jackson street, between Twelfth and Fourteenth streets.

THROWN FROM TRAIN AND SEVERELY INJURED

Thomas, an overland train was about to stop when it started down. Twenty-third avenue last night, John Thomas, 75 years of age, attempted to step to the ground and was thrown heavily, sustaining severe bruises and lacerations. The train moved on and the aged man's disappearance was discovered a short time later by his daughter, who notified the police.

A posse was sent out along the tracks but failed to find Thomas. Later Dr. W. W. Kegan was summoned by people who had found the old man wandering dazed in the streets near the railroad. Thomas and there were reasons for believing the White House would not repeat this government's attitude toward exports of arms to Mexico.

Ambassador Wilson, after leaving the State Department, dictated the following statement:

"I believe that the President and the Secretary of State are anxious to see that the government's attitude toward exports of arms to Mexico.

WILSON AT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The sudden departure of Ambassador Wilson from the State Department for a conference led to the report that the status might be announced.

The ambassador came to the White House and was told there was a misunderstanding about his engagement that instead of a conference with the President, he was to call on Secretary

The ambassador said the telegram he received in New York stated the President was not at home.

White House. Observers of the diplomatic situation predicted that the ambassador's resignation would be accepted soon. The only explanation, however, as to the purpose of his recall to Washington, made at the White House was that it was for further study of the situation.

CONFERS WITH PRESIDENT

Shortly after the ambassador called, Senator Bacon, chairman of the foreign relations committee, went into conference with the President. The President gave him to understand that he would consult the chairman of the two Congressional committees on foreign affairs before taking any action.

It was also suggested that the president's announcement late might formally express a determination reached a fortnight ago to treat the constitutionalists and the unrecognized Huerta administration on an equality with respect to the exportation of arms from this country.

When Ambassador Wilson was leaving the White House on his way to the State Department, he gave out a copy of a letter he received from former president Taft on June 29, 1913, approving his course in Mexico. The letter followed:

"My Dear Mr. Wilson: You were Ambassador of the United States to Mexico, during the most trying times that the people of Mexico have passed through and during a period when the relations between us and Mexico were constantly being subjected to a serious strain. I have great pleasure in expressing my high approval of your zealous and courageous efforts in the protection of American interests; and indeed, the interests of foreign governments generally during the critical period of Mexican disorders. No one can understand the difficulties of your position and the exceptional excellence of the work you did, who is not familiar with the constantly changing circumstances of the situation and the variety of the exigencies which you had to meet.

"You have my full permission to publish this letter.

Sincerely yours,
"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

WILSON SEES BRYAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson returned to Washington today for a conference with Secretary Bryan.

The ambassador's return evidently has been arranged for short notice. His telegram from Secretary Bryan was received in the city.

Liquor Store Is Model of Its Kind

Perhaps the lack of it has not been felt keenly, but the Yosemite Wine Co. have supplied the need before it was expressed.

They have opened a family liquor store, the superbness of which is not equaled in the coast.

The interior appointments are of a quiet elegance, the wood work being of turned oak with hand painted decorations, and leaded glass lanterns shed a subdued light, giving the place an air that is seldom encountered.

Special attention has been paid to the ladies' rest and phone room, where lounging chairs and a massive fireplace give it a very homey atmosphere.

The wine cellar is another unique feature.

Although this is essentially a family liquor store, it has taken the agency for America county for the famous Golden Pheasant confections; a matter of particular interest to the ladies. This is due to the fact that the location is very favorable to ladies' patronage and there is positively no bar in connection. Moreover, a superior line of candied and brandied fruits, imported delicacies and Havana and domestic cigars are there to please the "lady."

These features added to a choice of liquor that is almost infinite, make this store one that is a credit to the city and of great convenience to its patrons.

THE EXPRESS ROBBERY STOPPED

The California Railroad Commission has not cut down the exorbitant rates of Wells, Fargo & Company a moment too soon. We are not prepared to say that the sweeping cut in the express charges of this company are entirely justified by existing conditions, but it is a fact beyond dispute that the express corporation has been insolently extortionate and has amassed enormous profits by a policy that has angered the public while plundering the people. The charges of the Wells, Fargo corporation are out of all proportion to the service rendered or the capital employed in rendering it; moreover, it has treated its patrons in a high-handed, contemptuous manner that has provoked much complaint.

Until the law was amended so as to clothe the Railroad Commission with the requisite authority, and the State had there was no redress. The express company had things all its own way and charged what it pleased—it treated people who were compelled to patronize it with contemptuous indifference. It took all the traffic would bear, and often more than it would bear. Capitalized for twenty times what its plant is worth, it earned, or rather extorted large dividends on its watered capital and paid up a huge surplus besides.

At last the Railroad Commission has put an end to the extortion. The commissioners found that the company had $613,000 invested in the plant used in California, on which it was earning an annual profit of $842,000—136 per cent. The rates were cut to bring this extravagant profit down to 10 per cent. The whole State will applaud the decision.

THE TRIBUNE does not believe that in every instance the commission has treated public service corporations with justice and wisdom, but it has given every evidence of an intent to do right and be strictly just. The personnel of the commission is above reproach; its members are sincere, painstaking men honestly desirous of doing the right thing, and if prejudice occasionally betrays them into an error we are confident they will retrieve it the moment it can be shown that they have done an injustice. The point is, that they are striving to be fair and have the courage of their convictions. They are friends of the people and are not enemies of the transportation companies; corporations which deal fairly with the public need be in no fear of them.

In some respects we believe the law gives the commission a dangerous discretionary latitude, but this discretion has not been so far used to inflict injury on any interest or to serve any other purpose than put the transportation business on an equitable basis. That a sincere purpose actuates the commission is, we think, abundantly proven by the method of handling and adjusting disputes. Integrity of purpose is shown by readiness to listen to all sides and correct mistakes.

It may become necessary hereafter to curtail the extraordinary powers vested in the commission, but such a necessity will not arise till the powers are abused or are employed to cripple enterprise or inflict wanton injustice. So long as the commission hews to the line, as it has done thus far, its authority will not be decreased. Without plenary authority it cannot be of much service, and thus far its authority has been justified by use and by the results achieved. The Wells, Fargo case is an example of its resolute determination to do the right thing and relieve the public from exaction without destroying or rendering unprofitable a public utility. Possibly the cut is too deep; time will show; but extortion being clearly shown, a drastic cut in rates followed as a natural consequence. Nor is there any reason to believe that hostility to corporations prompted the reductions ordered. We have no patience with the contention that an act of justice to the patrons of a corporation is an act of injustice to the corporation—that an official cannot be a friend of the people without being an enemy of capital.

Justice is as broad as it is long, and justice to shippers does no wrong to common carriers. That seems to be the theory of the Railroad Commission. It is a theory THE TRIBUNE subscribes to, and we believe it is the theory on which the relations of transportation companies with their patrons will in future be adjusted. To the present Railroad Commission belongs the credit of being the first administrative body in California to recognize the fact that justice to one is justice to all.

Mexican Hostility to Americans.

General Felix Diaz, who undoubtedly is in thorough understanding with General Huerta, provisional president of Mexico, speaks fair, but his diplomatic assurances are more friendly than the tone of the Huerta press. The organs of the Huerta government, especially the Pais and El Diario of the City of Mexico, are decidedly uncomplimentary in their references to the government and people of the United States. They continually assert that the United States has designs on their country, and ascribe every action taken by our government as base and treacherous. The Pais, which is regarded as an inspired organ of the Huerta administration, is particularly vicious in its comments on Americans and American policy. In nearly every issue it scoffs at the power and pretensions of the United States and hurls insults at the Yankees. Possibly the tone of militant hostility in which it speaks of Yankees and the Yankee nation may be prompted by the exigencies of the situation in Mexico, but indicates anything but a friendly feeling.

McLoughlin Brings It Back

appointment of the Huerta administration at the refusal of the Washington government to recognize it. They are denying the United States because the United States has steadfastly refused to take part or sides in the internal conflict now raging in Mexico. But beneath all this is to be discerned a latent hostility which has lingered in the Mexican mind ever since the war which wrested California, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico from the Mexican republic. It is natural that this feeling of resentment should be cherished, and Americans should neither be surprised nor angered by it. Our policy of non-interference should not be departed from because the resentment finds expression in vaunting and verbal insult. We can stand both without loss of dignity or temper, and we can afford to be just and fair to a people smarting under a sense of injustice and suspicious of our good intentions. It is our task to prove that there will be no repetition of the spoliation of 1847, that we are the friends of the Mexican people and harbor no designs on their liberties or territory.

After we have had the Secretary of the Navy and the Secretary of War we will be in readiness to entertain the Secretary of Peace—the Hon. William Jennings Bryan. After war comes peace. But the chances are that Mr. Bryan will stir up more conflict by coming out here than our ships and guns can suppress. Mr. Bryan provokes war by talking peace. Perhaps he might help the peace movement along by talking for war. But possibly it might not pay him so well as a lecturer. The Chautauqua circuit demands a militant advocate of peace.

President Wilson has selected the Democratic candidate for Governor in New Jersey and warned all other aspirants to get out of the race. An administration organ describes this as the President asserting himself as a party leader. We should say he was asserting himself as a party boss.

SOURCE OF TEMPERAMENT

The activity of the thyroid gland in the neck largely affects temperament, and every one has some idea of what it means to be bilious or jaundiced. Far more difficult is the case where a morbid state of body produces what we must regard as in itself a healthy state of mind. The "spes phthisica," the optimistic outlook of the sufferer from phthisis or consumption, has been known for ages, and is as astonishing as ever to observe today. A case further is found in general paralysis of the insane, an awful and invariably fatal disease, with a rapid course, due to intoxication of the whole body with the products of some kind of parasitism. Here the patient is not merely happy; he is morbidly exalted, his glee, his megalomaniac passion, he ends and while he can no longer control his ulcerated body or its humiliated functions, he flatters himself that he is the king of kings. It need hardly be said that we have no beginning of an explanation of these things.

Then there are the questions of race and of sex. Dr. Arthur Keith, in his masterly brochure on the "human body," says that women are fortunate in that the "dois de vivre" lasts longer and is more acute in them than in men. I never saw the statement before, and know nothing about it, but it interests me. Lastly, we have the uncharted universe of psychology, fact where temperament depends upon immaterial factors. Let any physiologist who is well content with, for instance, the recent study of "thyroid instability," read, as I have just read, the story of Jeanne d'Arc, and explain the temperament of that noble child by his formula if he can. I said at the end of the article that I would say before Prometheus—Pall Mall Gazette.

FRESH WATER PEARLS

Arkansas is the greatest pearl producing state in the union, and hundreds of men are now engaged in the pearl hunt and will be until winter sets in. It is said that the fresh water pearl of Arkansas of the highest class cannot be distinguished from the finest deep sea jewel. Throughout the south generally thousands of people follow the pearl fishing industry and make a comfortable living at it. Up to a few years ago the jewel wealth contained in the river beds of the Mississippi valley was completely hidden. It was not supposed that the fresh water mussel was a pearl bearer, or that it had any value except for fish bait.

The fresh water mussel is sought now only for the precious stone it may have hidden in its shell, but for the shell itself, which is manufactured into buttons, cuff links, and buttons of every description. The shell fisheries have for a long time been the subject of much discussion, and have been cancelled.

Twenty Years Ago Today

Tomorrow the sixteenth annual fall of the Golden Gate Mechanical and Agricultural Fair Association will close after one of the most successful meetings in its history.

Rev. L. A. Wilkinson, a well known minister of this city, has opened a new mission on San Pablo avenue, known as the Full Gospel Mission.

Mrs. Theresa Wheeler is in Los Angeles.

Mrs. C. M. Hargett and children are visiting at Blue Ridge.

J. O'Brien of West Oakland is visiting in the southern part of the state.

Captain David Newbury of this city has received a medal as one of the surviving soldiers of the battle of Gettysburg.

Mrs. J. T. Gardiner and Miss Jennie Gardner have gone for a three month visit to Chicago and the Eastern states.

Willis Sharp has gone to Hayward for a week or so.

Mrs. K. L. Nevins is recuperating on Mount Diablo.

Mrs. A. J. Castello is visiting in Chicago.

Miss Jennie Barrett is home after a visit to Mann county.

Miss Elizabeth Benjamin has returned from her vacation at Santa Cruz.

A. J. Whittier of East Oakland has returned from Mendocino county.

Miss Sadie Hardin, who graduated second in a class of sixty at the University this year, has obtained the junior fellowship in political economy at Chicago University. She will leave for the East on September 1 and spend a month at the World's Fair before entering upon her work.

Daniel Souly has been appointed an extraman on the Webster street chemical engine, Alameda, by Chief Krauth.

A new fire company to be known as the Posen Volunteer Fire Company, has been organized in West Berkeley and funds will be collected to aid the enterprise.

Rev. A. C. Bane will give a panoramic view of the World's Fair at Asbury Methodist Episcopal church tonight.

Carr Neel of East Oakland is making a record in the Chicago tennis tournament, having beaten all except the champion, Haver.

Neel will meet the champion tomorrow in the finals.

THERE'S MONEY IN RAGTIME.

How did we begin to "ragtime"? For four years the "rag" has enthralled America, and for nearly two the Pacific has been infected by "ragtime" we have nothing but ragging-ragtime, everywhere—at state ceremonies, society functions, promenade bands, and country fairs.

Yet Irving Berlin, who is responsible for the craze, is a very quiet, unassuming man, 35 years of age, of slim build, with dark complexion and hair that reveal his Italian parentage. All the same, he is the very incarnation of "ragtime" in composition. He admits that the rhythm and bit of his songs were taken from the streets.

"But I must have caught the spirit of syncopation in popular songs by instinct," he says. "I can't write a note of music. No, I'm not 'ragging' you when I say that! The melodies strike my ears, I catch them, and I write them, and I give another man to write them—that's how it's done."

Mr. Berlin has a fine voice, and is able to interpret his own songs to performers. He himself will show us, at the Hippodrome shortly, how they should be sung.

He gave a private entertainment to a select party at the Savoy Hotel, and arrived here with a sneeze of new "rags" which will be given at the Hippodrome. He is in receipt of the modest sum of $100,000.

BRYAN CANCELS PRESENT ENGAGEMENTS TO SPEAK

KANSAS CITY, AUG. 4.—William Jennings Bryan, Secretary of State, who was to have spoken at the Chautauqua tomorrow night in this city, notified the management today that affairs in his office would not permit him to fill the

FIREWORKS IN EUROPE

(By Vice Consul Piero Gnanelli, Turin). Pyrotechnic performances in Italy are usually ordered by municipalities. In southern Italy they are very frequent, and every fair or holiday serves as a call for them. Their cost varies, according to the size of the towns, from $50 to $500. In northern Italy displays are much rarer and only take place in connection with expositions. In the city of Turin, for instance, fireworks of any importance were only displayed in 1893, 1902, and 1911, on the occasion of national and international expositions. The sum expended on four performances in 1911 was $6000.

Italian pyrotechnists are known to be able and to have quite artistic taste in the combination of colors. They exercise much care and ingenuity in construction and filling of cases so as to produce timely and attractive effects. They are equally skilled in every form of fireworks—fixed, roasting, and ascending—their practical experience and manual dexterity being often guided by their study of chemistry. A proof that they are much appreciated even abroad is that they are often called to displays. In such cases they make the fireworks on the spot. Italian pyrotechnists obtain the ingredients from the home factories of gunpowder, smokeless powder, and other explosives, which are protected by a high government customs tariff. Besides the "Pol-verificio Governativo" of Fontana Liri, Province of Caserta, and the "Laboratorio Pirotecnico Militare" of Bologna, both making explosives for the army and navy requirements, there are in Italy several important factories.

The most recent official statistics of fireworks prepared by the Italian Department of Commerce and Industry are those of 1903. In that year 623 works were in existence employing altogether 1473 hands, of which 1325 were men and 148 women. The industry has not undergone any further development since 1903; it is still carried on by a few families who transmit the secrets as to the composition of their product from father to son.

The total production of the works in Italy in 1901 (the last year for which government statistics are available) amounted to 124,555 pounds made with gunpowder and 120,135 pounds made with other explosives. It is believed that the production is stationary, and therefore the figures given for 1901 represent approximately the same for 1913.

BITS OF HISTORY

Governor Dunne's four pens used in signing the suffrage bill suggest a familiar form of pen was used when the treaty of Paris was signed in 1763. On March 23 of that year Henry Greville notes in his diary: "I heard that the Empress Eugenie having expressed a wish to possess the pen with which the plenipotentiaries are to sign peace, the emperor ordered that the finest eagle in the Jardin des Plantes should be plucked of its best feather which, being tailed on plume, is to be used on this occasion and then handed over to her majesty." A week later Greville records: "Cavour told us that the eagle's feather had been used for the signature of one or two copies, mailed on a set of revolvers against the first day of the next term, which was full fourteen days and fifteen nights. The cause of his thus sleeping could not be known, though the same were diligently searched for by the king's physicians and (1860). And he rates them soundly for their extravagance. This extravagance examined by said W. Foxley, who was in town, apparently, the form of the 'An all points found at his waking to be as if over seemingly of little account,' writes he had slept but one night, and lived 'but in reality of infinite long—one year after."

MUIR'S STUDY MACHINE

"Nevertheless I still indulge my love of mechanical invention," writes John Muir in his newly published volume, "Story of My Boyhood and Youth." "I invented a desk in which the books I had to study were arranged in order at the top of each term. I also made a bed which set me on my feet every morning at the hour determined on, and in dark winter mornings just as the bed set me on the floor it lighted a lamp. Then, after the minutes allowed for dressing had elapsed, a click was heard and the first book to be studied was pushed up from a rack below the top of the desk, thrown open, and allowed to remain there the number of minutes required. Then the machinery closed the book and allowed it to drop back into its stall, then moved the rack forward and threw up the next in order, and so on, all the day being divided according to the times of cultivation, and time required and allotted to each study.

"Besides this, I thought it would be a fine thing in the summer time, when the sun rose early to disperse the mists, to control the machinery, and make use of sunbeams instead. This I did simply by taking a lens out of my small spy glass, fixing it on a frame on the sill of my bedroom window, and pointing it to the sunrise. The sunbeams focused on a thread, burned it through, allowing the bed machinery to put me on my feet.

"When I wished to arise at any given time after sunrise, I had only to turn the pivoted frame that held the lens the requisite number of degrees or minutes. Thus I took Emerson's advice and hitched my dumping wagon bed to a star."—Chicago News.

Every Series Ends With 4-3 Break Teams Battle All Week Without Changing Standing @ Aha, Here Come the Tray Packers @ Oaks Enter Last Week at Home

Oaks Douse Pennant, but Can't Beat Home Ground Jinx Even Then

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE TO WIN FORTUNE AND A MONUMENT

Tell Leavitt and Ewing How to Win Ball Games on Home Grounds.

By BILLY FITZ.

WILL some long-domed gent please step forward and tell the Oaks their home grounds Sunday morning, and tell the Seals how they can triumph on their own grounds Sunday afternoon? The Oaks continued their policy yesterday morning of losing on their home grounds, and the Seals have apparently been included with the same disease. If ever there were two disgusted baseball managers in the city, it is Ewing and Frank W. Leavitt. They have tried by every conceivable method to win on their home grounds before the big crowd, but the Oaks says otherwise.

The Oaks go to San Francisco and win the Seals to the disappointment of a Seal audience. Then the Seals come back and win on the grounds of an Oakland audience. Thus the ball teams get an even break, but the crowd doesn't. There's only one consolation left, and that is the proof of the lunacy of baseball.

That was certainly a heart-breaking struggle for Jack Leavitt to lose yesterday morning. He and "Lefty" Leifeld were routed a man for three innings, and then a mere sup of the fans sent an in-curve against the ribs of Walter Cartwright for the only run of the morning. It was undoubtedly proper that Leifeld's call on the pitcher's mound that won his game. The old warrior will win many a game for the Seals before the season closes.

The Oaks lost a grand opportunity last week to retain top territory for the season. They were beaten on the grounds of the home grounds, and the Seals were victorious on the grounds of the home grounds. The Oaks were beaten on the grounds of the home grounds, and the Seals were victorious on the grounds of the home grounds.

Now comes the Tray-Packers from the land of the pure Caucasians. They are not in the best of shape, and the Oaks must win to beat them. The Oaks must win to beat them. The Oaks must win to beat them. The Oaks must win to beat them. The Oaks must win to beat them.

Bill Malarky is improving every day. In another two weeks it will be impossible to use "Cool Oil Bill." Remember how he closed last season? Well, it looks as though he was due to repeat. Leavitt and Leifeld will also get their innings this week.

There is no more valuable utility infielder in the league than this youngster out of a very bad season. He has a few more weeks to show his worth. He has a few more weeks to show his worth. He has a few more weeks to show his worth. He has a few more weeks to show his worth. He has a few more weeks to show his worth.

A report from San Jose is to the effect that the Coast is concerned. The Coast is concerned. The Coast is concerned. The Coast is concerned. The Coast is concerned. The Coast is concerned. The Coast is concerned. The Coast is concerned. The Coast is concerned. The Coast is concerned.

The first lot handed to organized baseball, so far as the Coast is concerned, came today with the announcement that Pitcher George Kaiserling, sold by the Indianapolis club to the Seals, had signed a Federal League contract. The Seals will report to the Indianapolis club of the outfit organization.

It begins to look as though Comiskey didn't do so very much when he unloaded Walter Schaller on the Seals. The Seals are not in the best of shape. The Seals are not in the best of shape. The Seals are not in the best of shape. The Seals are not in the best of shape. The Seals are not in the best of shape.

Regaining His Batting Eye—

"Honus" Mitze, while conceded to be the best catcher in the league, has never been renowned for his progress with the stick. However, he is a fairly reliable starter and has been making indications the past week of steady improvement with the stick. Twice now he has come up in the pinches and driven in a run, and he has met the ball solidly every time. The Seals didn't get more than three stolen bases on Mitze during the entire week.

How Oaks Battled Last Week

Portland led all the clubs in batting last week, hitting at the remarkable clip of .318. Sacramento was second with .292, Venice third with .280, Oakland fourth .276, Los Angeles fifth .237 and San Francisco last with .234.

In fielding, Oakland led the league with a percentage of .980. The other teams fielded as follows: San Francisco .979, Sacramento .960, Portland .951, Venice and Los Angeles .945.

Oaks Change Seats and Ditch Pennant

The Oaks thought they had it all cooked up to win yesterday morning. If you were there, you noticed that the 1913 pennant didn't float over the club house roof. No gaudy confusion disturbed the atmosphere. Also, if you were there, you noticed that the Oaks had changed their dug-out to the right side of the field. No pennant and the seats changed.

'The Best Play I Ever Saw'

To the Sporting Editor: The best play I ever saw was that in which "Big Bill" Lester, by his cleverness and rollicking good humor, helped a runner to score from first on a one-base hit, and got away with it. It occurred many years ago at the West Side Park in Chicago.

Lange was at bat and a runner on first. Lange made a safe drive to right. The runner made a quick recovery, and Lange, after rounding first, saw he couldn't make second base. He turned back to the base, and Lange saw him. Lange saw him. Lange saw him. Lange saw him. Lange saw him.

DOG SHOW PLANNED FOR THIS CITY NEXT MONTH

An announcement of more than ordinary interest to local canine lovers, is that made today by the Oakland and Alameda County Kennel Club, the club announcing that a dog show will be held in the city on September 1 and 2, an annual event. Since the last dog show broke away from the San Francisco body, it has been meeting with much success and according to reports from the September show will eclipse any former shows of this kind on the coast. The show has the sanction of the national body, Jack

To the Sporting Editor: The latter gets a long hit and reaches first base, but does not touch first base. The ball was played to the third base, and the pitcher was in the box. Was he correct in the umpire's judgment? The team on the field if a man fails to touch a base?

Two errors can be given if desired, as it is a matter of personal opinion, not of fact. In the majors, 2. The runner must be out.

1. Man on first base only. On a passed ball he goes to second base, touching that base. He then returns to first base, and the pitcher stands on the base. The pitcher with the ball, is he out? 2. Is there any rule that a runner is not to occupy a base to which he is legally entitled.

FRANK BREMER ENDS DAY AS HIGH GUN

The regular semi-monthly shoot of the California Schutzen Club was held at the club's mark yesterday and resulted in a victory for Frank H. Bremer, who scored 214 rings in his ten shot score, being the highest score of the day. The second highest score was 201 by O. A. Bremer, who made 19 rings.

Charles E. Morris made the high score in the third class, his score being 214 rings. The very best shot of the day was made by a member of the club, A. von Wyl, who scored a dead center in the competition. ACCUSE ATHLETICS OF STEALING SIGNALS

For several years it has been charged that the Philadelphia Athletics by some method or other have been stealing the opposing team's battery signals, which has enabled them to hit most any kind of pitching.

Whether this is true or not, it is a fact that the Athletics have been benefited by the fact that they have been stealing the opposing team's battery signals, which has enabled them to hit most any kind of pitching.

ADVICE FOR ENTRANTS IN THE TRIBUNE RACE

Sleep Is an Important Factor in Success of Training

By C. H. TOOZE, ASSISTANT PHYSICAL INSTRUCTOR, OAKLAND Y. M. C. A.

WILL not attempt to lay down the specific rules as to the distance a fellow should run while training. Consult your own feeling and be guided by your own judgment.

Gradually increase the road and gymnasium work; remember that too rigorous a course of training will drain the nervous force of any one, so never run yourself out; keep a reserve, to be used only during the race.

To acquire and conserve the stamina needed to finish with the leaders in the TRIBUNE race, there is nothing of more importance than plenty of sleep. And you will gain more strength and staying powers by getting to bed early and rising early, than by retiring late, and rising late.

A cold plunge before dressing will give exhilarating and beneficial. The ideas of some of the old-time trainers in regard to diet, have become antiquated and today the matter of diet is greatly simplified, with better results attained. Eliminate pastry, highly seasoned foods, cheese and pork in any form. Eat plenty of wholesome food without stuffing yourself. For drink, milk and cocoa should take the place of coffee and when over-heated from running.

More care should be taken in eating during the final three or four days of training when potatoes and other heavy foods should be left out of the bill of fare. Toast is preferable to bread, and with soups, soft boiled eggs, meat, custards, plain pudding rice and fruit you should fare very well during this period. The object is not to load down the stomach, just preceding the race.—To be continued.

THE SPORTLIGHT ON EVERY FIELD

Redondo won the swimming meet down south yesterday, 12 points ahead of the S. F. Y. M. C. A. Larger beat Lincoln Johnson in the 550 yard dash.

Dan Arata defeated Howard in the second elimination skate for the one and a half mile championship at the Coeum, Arata's time was 2 minutes 55 seconds.

Vera Hal set a new mile record for the Stadium track yesterday afternoon in the California mile race, beating two heats in 4:07. The road race won the first for all time a straight heat from Hamburg Belle, and by so doing bettered the record of 1:00.00 for the same distance of 1 mile and 1/4.

The first conference of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, which is to decide on the world-wide track and field governing body will be established, will be held in Berlin, August 20 to 24. The plan will be to elect a president and a committee to organize the 1915 Olympic games in Berlin.

Foreign riflemen are already arriving for the International shoot to be held at Camp Perry, Ohio, from August 15 to September 8, in connection with the Perry centennial celebration.

A unique feature of the sporting arrangements at the 1915 Panama-Pacific Fair at San Francisco will be a huge live hippodrome, costing $300,000, for the sports, which by special process will be fit for use even during the heat of the summer sun.

The football season in the East will begin on Saturday, September 20, the Carnegie Indians playing Albright College at Carlisle, that day.

San Francisco will award purses of $100,000 to the winners of the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Wheelmen Trying-Out for Pope Race

Hans Ohrt made the best time in the tryout for the Pope race held by the New Century Wheelmen club yesterday. Ohrt covered the distance of 60 miles in 41 minutes and 40 seconds. Pop Rhodes made the second best time, with George Drury third and Ad Mooney fourth.

Leslie Drury, who started over the course, took the wrong road and failed to finish. George McGrath and Herman Born officiated at the tryout.

The Acme Cycling club of Oakland also held its final tryout over the same course yesterday. Captain H. Hoffmann, Fred Hoffman, Cecil Nelson, R. Girard, Ray Price, A. B. Smith and L. Mooney all went over the course. The club expects to have a strong team in the Pope race, which will be held next Sunday.

COULON AND BURNS ARE MATCHED FOR BANTAM TITLE IN OMAHA

Hayward Athletic Club to Show Tomorrow Night; Other Boxing Notes.

By THE TIMEKEEPER.

HERE is no doubt that Bob McAllister, ex-great boxer. This he demonstrated to the satisfaction of quite a crowd of fans who yesterday journeyed out to the Oakland Athletic Club's quarters to watch him in action.

McAllister went through six rounds of boxing, taking on Mark O'Donnell, Harry Carter and Hal Simms, each for a period of two rounds. The former Olympic man showed lots of speed and smashed his sparring partners at will. However, his punches did practically no damage and to put Petrosky to sleep will require more than a mere love tap.

McAllister states that he has not yet let himself out, and he expects to spring a surprise when he tackles the ex-saltor, Friday night. From the camp of Petrosky in San Rafael comes the report that the ex-saltor is in wonderful form. His hitting has been a source of great admiration to his supporters, his sparring partners being given the name of "The Hammer" for the way they get into the ropes. Petrosky expects to finish McAllister in four or five rounds. He appears to have the punch, but his speed will be determined in hitting Bob, who is unusually active in getting out of the way of wild swings.

Tomorrow evening will settle the question as to whether or not Hayward will have a monthly boxing show. The Hayward Athletic Club has arranged a card for that place tomorrow night, and promoter Joseph Varas has been assured by the town trustees that monthly permits will be given to the club. Tomorrow night's card is a success.

Manuel Viera and Freddy Hammon of Los Angeles will meet in the main event of the monthly show. The other bouts will be Ray McCarey vs. Al Arenas, Dutch Larsen, a San Leandro product, for six rounds, and a four round affair with Freddy Hammon vs. Al Arenas, a San Leandro product, for six rounds. Al Arenas will officiate as referee. The affair will start at 8:30. Cars leave for the show at 8:00. The show house is located on B Street.

Ad Wolgast is still talking about that $25,000 bet. However, it looks as if that was about as far as a Wolgast-Kitchie bout will ever go.

There is talk of matching Motorman Charlie Miller with Arthur Pelkey for the world heavyweight championship of the world. Promoter Tom McCarey is said to be angling for the match. Louis Parente, who looks after Miller's affairs, has left for Los Angeles where he will endeavor to get the match consummated. According to Tommy Burns, manager of Pelkey, he will, if offered the proper inducements, make a start of theatrical engagement in order to allow his manager to prepare for a bout during the latter part of September.

Petrosky, following yesterday's workout, tipped the beam at 161½ pounds, making it a simple matter for him to get into the ring with the champion. Lightweight Champion Willie Itkin and Harry Foley visited Petrosky's camp yesterday and both were impressed by the work.

Johnny Dundee and Jack White have started training for their bout at Los Angeles on August 12.

Bobby Burns, bantamweight of Dallas, Texas, signed articles today for a ten round boxing contest with Johnny Coulon, champion bantamweight of the world, to be held in Omaha, September 12.

Joe Arzavio, who meets Tommy McFarlane in the ten round main event of the West Oakland club on the 15th of this month, arrived in town this morning from Sacramento, and the star of the match began training at the West Oakland club. Charlie Cleaver, manager of McFarlane, has his protégé looking out at Al Young's place in San Francisco. Promoter Tom Simpson has arranged as attractive a card as has been seen here in many months. The star of the show is Frankie Jones, six round star, who has all the earmarks of a slugging mill. Thomas is an East Oakland boy and is a very rugged chap. Jones hails from San Francisco and is known as an aggressive boxer. Frank Waldorf, an Alameda boy, and Jack Paul, a local youngster, will provide the fun in the four round opener.

Bob McAllister has introduced golf as part of his training for his match a week from tonight with Sam Provoxy. In chasing the little white ball over the links was ever looked on by a prizefighter as fit work to condition him, none of the old time sporting men sought out today could remember it.

"That's a new one," is what they all said. McAllister argues that training days are dull days and that a little light work to keep his muscles supple and his lungs filled with fresh air, while his mind is active, is the best recreation between bouts of heavier exercise. When younger he used to be a caddy and knows the game.

STAR PITCHER BUSH PLAYERS JINK

Lou Criger, now coach of the St. Louis Browns, caters, says about the toughest thing which can happen to a pitcher is being chased into the major leagues to make his debut against a pitching star or a couple of them. He says that one of the most amusing things of this matter he can recall was the time Candy Lo Chance broke into the National League. La Chance got a berth with Brooklyn and the latter team had a series on with New York at the time.

La Chance, who had a record of 10-10 in the heyday of his career, went down three times on strikeouts in the only three times he was legal up. Next day he was back in the same performance took place. La Chance, in other words, had struck out six times in as many times up in two games.

After the second game he inquired whether all the pitchers in the National League were as good as Ruste and Meekins and was given the cheerful information that they were. La Chance started to pack his belongings and quit the club, but some one persuaded him to give the league a further trial, and, as a result,

DISTRICT ATTORNEY PREPARING CASES

Cafe and Saloon Men in Two Cases May Soon Be Facing Trial

Arising from a sickbed, Dist. Attorney W. H. L. Hynes today assumed personal charge of the case of Ward Masters, the youth who confesses to having embezzled to secure funds for gambling, which may result in the prosecution of Jack Heaney, a local saloon man, and several pool room owners. Hynes also has taken charge of the Helen Sergeant case, in which the confession of a fifteen-year-old girl has named places where she has drunk liquor, and several men who have purchased drinks for her.

Hynes and assistant, Philip Carey, who has handled the case, were closeted for four hours this morning, going over the testimony in the cases. Every grain of evidence is being weighed, and witnesses will, it is expected be subpoenaed this week.

SECOND STATEMENT.
"Mr. Carey's recent statement to the public, that my heavy support," declared Hynes, "and there is little I can add. So long as I am district attorney of this county those who contribute to the delinquency of minors will be prosecuted. I don't care who they are."

"In these cases I cannot tell yet how to proceed. I will not bring the cases to trial until I consider the evidence sufficient to warrant it. I might otherwise waste the people's money, and, besides, put this office in the light of acting hastily and ill-advisedly. That is why I am going over the evidence before us carefully."

"Do you think the evidence so far is not sufficient to warrant prosecution?"
"I would not say that," answered Hynes. "I would rather investigate further before making a definite statement in the matter. You may say this, however; justice will be done, and a few days will tell the tale. I will not say just what we propose to do yet, but rest assured we are going to leave no stone unturned to get to the bottom of the matter and bring the guilty to justice."

BODIES ILL FOR MEN.
"A man who in any way aids a minor in going wrong will be punished if this office can bring him to justice. That is certain."

The case assumed a new angle today when Carey laid all his evidence in the matter before his superior, and received the latter's absolute commendation. This means that the office is squarely taking the case against youth gambling in saloons, and allowing young girls to be debauched in cafes. Vigorous action is now assured, and investigation will proceed with a rush.

Although still ill, Hynes is aroused over the case, and declares that, if necessary, he will conduct the inquiry in his bed. Hynes has been seriously ill from a fever attack, and is up in disobedience to the orders of Dr. O. D. Hamilton, who ordered perfect rest for a week.

PLAN REVEALED.
The Helen Sergeant case has assumed a serious aspect with the statement that some twenty men, saloon and cafe owners and prominent Oakland men, have been ordered to tell the district attorney what they know of the matter. Some of these are charged with buying liquor for the girl, who is 15. Others are said to have allowed the girl to drink in their places of business.

The names have so far been withheld, as, legally, the testimony heard in a juvenile court session can not be made public. Judge Donahue himself has ordered that until action has been decided on, the names be kept secret.

GIRL IS HELD.
The girl in the case is a ward of the juvenile court, having been taken into custody a few weeks ago and adjudged delinquent by Superior Judge William H. Donahue. At the request of the girl and her parents, the hearing was held behind closed doors and later the child was removed to she gave names of prominent Oaklanders as having purchased beer for her and mentioned several saloons where she was served. Her statement astounded the officials. The girl is a little under five feet in height and of youthful appearance.

At first the girl refused to divulge the names of the men, but later broke down and told all she knew. Fred Ohe, a saloonman operating a place at Fortieth street and San Pablo, was one of those summoned as a witness. It is declared by the girl that he purchased beer for her and another girl, a cafe singer, with whom she was in a cafe. Ohe declared he purchased the drink for the other girl, who is older, and when the little girl was served by the waiter he paid for it. He did not, it is claimed, notice the younger girl. The girl is said to have been prominent in Oakland's night life, despite her age.

Coming on the heels of the Ward Masters case, in which the youth's testimony names several places where he gambled, the case has caused the district attorney's office to take steps to stop at once any further assistance to delinquent youngsters. When the girl was declared to have confessed, several men paid hurried visits to the district attorney's office and confessed their connection, asking an immunity both.

NO IMMUNITY.
"There will be no washing done here," said Assistant District Attorney Philip Carey at the time. "I am not in the habit, and this office has not adopted the policy, of administering immunity baths. If there are any extenuating circumstances they will come out in the proper legal trials. The juvenile court or the grand jury can decide that point."

Following the announcement of the district attorney's office that the saloon men and pool room men implicated in the Ward Masters gambling case would not be put on the stand as witnesses, lest it clog prosecutions later, there are many perturbed saloon men in Oakland. Several have attempted to bring political pressure to bear, it is said, but without results.

The transcript of the testimony so far taken in the Sergeant case and the Masters case will be in the hands of the district attorney by nightfall. It will be held pending official action. "As soon as action is taken we can give out all the Sergeant case names," declared Hynes. "Now, of course, we would be in contempt of court if we did. The law says these must be kept secret, and, besides, we cannot give them out and allow the guilty to take warning and leave the city before we serve papers on them. Judge Donahue has positively ordered them sealed, according to law, until the proper time."

AFFIDAVITS FILED IN POWER COMPANY CASE.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—A number of affidavits were read in Superior Judge Sturtevant's court today in the suit of the Pacific Gas and Electric company for a permanent restraining order against the California Light and Power company, which prevents the latter company from interfering with the corporation. It is expected that the testimony by affidavit will occupy several days, after which arguments will be heard. Attorney Stanley Moore appeared for the company and Attorney John L. McNab for the counsel.

WILL OF C. L. LLOYD FILED FOR PROBATE.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—The will of the late Christine L. Lloyd, widow of John Lloyd, a pioneer merchant of the city, was filed for probate in the superior court here today. Mrs. Lloyd was passionately fond of animals, and one-tenth of her estate goes to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. She also leaves a tenth to the Golden Gate Orphanage and Industrial farm, the balance going to three children. The total value of the property is estimated at $25,000.

SALESMAN IS HELD UP RETURNING TO HOTEL.
G. T. Aldrich is Victim of Bold Pair of Thugs on Harrison Street

G. T. Aldrich, a salesman for Breck & Co. of St. Louis, who is now a guest at the Hotel Oakland, was held up and robbed by two armed thugs in Harrison street between Eleventh and Twelfth last night, a purse containing $80 being taken from him. The robbery occurred about midnight when Aldrich was returning to his room from dining with friends at an after-theatre supper at a local cafe.

Aldrich informed the police that he was walking along the street when the two men approached him. "You can give us the price of some eats, I guess," said one of the men, and a moment later he had flashed a revolver in Aldrich's face. The two men then turned and ran toward the highwaymen to the police, and a search was made in the neighborhood.

One "thug" was made his regular appearance late Saturday night in the Lake Merritt residence district, entering the rooms of C. H. Skowens, Lakeshore apartments, Lake Shore and Athol avenues, and stole $75 in coin. The police are making every effort to capture the man.

George K. Rogers of the St. Mark hotel, reported to the police that while boarding train at First and Broadway, he was jostled by two men and later discovered that his purse had been stolen by pickpockets.

It is reported that his place of business had been entered during the night and a revolver and $10 stolen.

ORMONDE CLUB RESTRAINS POLICE

Court Grants Order Preventing Police From Seizing Gambling Outfit.

Search Warrant Is Defective, But New Order Will Be Obtained.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Wolff Brothers, proprietors of the Ormonde Social club, at 88 Ellis street, where gambling is alleged to have been going on, were granted a restraining order by Judge Richards against Chief of Police White and District Attorney Fickett and Police Judge Deasy. The officials are forbidden from using a search warrant issued by Judge Deasy. Assistant District Attorney Maxwell McNut explained to the court that the search warrant was defective as it provided for the seizing of gambling paraphernalia but did not say that the implements were to be used in connection with the commission of a felony.

Immediately after the court issuing the order the police announced that they would obtain a new search warrant from another judge. It was promised that this one would not be defective in any way.

WILL INVESTIGATE PETITION FORGERY

The District Attorney Details Prosecutor Ferrari to Make Thorough Inquiry.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—The wholesale forgery of names on the referendum petition to set aside the red light bill, providing for the opening up again of the saloons at late hours, the abatement bill and the blue sky bill directed at the game laws, have brought about an investigation on the part of District Attorney Fickett, and today Louis Ferrari was detailed by the prosecutor to make a thorough inquiry. Ferrari has received information which leads him to believe that a number of indictments will be returned by the grand jury at their session to be held next week.

Registrar Harry Zemansky discovered the forgeries and more than a thousand names appended to the red light petition are alleged to have been written by persons other than the duly qualified voters. Most of the forgeries, it is asserted, occurred on petitions circulated by Ben J. Dineen, 720 Hayes street, and whether or not he is responsible for the situation will be minutely inquired into.

"A scandalous corruption of affairs has been found to exist," declared Ferrari this morning. "These forgeries have occurred right and left, and the public will be surprised when the proper attention is brought to the case."

If evidence to prove deliberate forgeries is found, indictments will issue. PROMINENT NAMES FORGED.
In examining the petition, it was found that false signatures of Charles S. Fee, passenger agent of the Southern Pacific; Charles S. Fay, secretary of former mayor James D. Phelan; Martin Brandenstein, former fire commissioner, and many other prominent men, had been attached. Registrar Zemansky believes that were the work of independent solicitors, not of those behind the petitions. Several verification deputies are also under suspicion.

In all, 124,000 signatures were filed. Most of the forgeries were attached to the red light abatement bill, which showed only 17,000 valid signatures out of 22,000 submitted. Two thousand were rejected for various technicalities and 3000 as false. The number of rejected signatures reported to the police by W. B. Scoll of the same address.

WOULD LIMIT HEIGHT OF CITY'S BUILDINGS.
The city council has under consideration the plan of passing an ordinance limiting the height of Oakland buildings. The idea was suggested by Sullivan W. Jones of the firm of Hornbostel & Jones, city hall architects, with the purpose of permitting the city hall to remain the most imposing building in the city.

DISAPPEARS FROM HOME.
The police have been asked to search for William J. Peavey, 1929 Telegraph avenue, 22 years of age, who disappeared from his home, July 27, and has not been seen since. The disappearance of Peavey was reported to the police by W. B. Scott of the same address.

Peavey was 5 feet 9 inches in height, weighed 160 pounds, had dark hair and blue eyes, and wore a light suit of clothes and a soft black hat.

'ALFALFA BILL' ASKS INTERFERENCE WANTS U. S. TO CHECK MEXICO

WILLIAM H. MURRAY, CONGRESSMAN WHO WANTS TO USE FORCE TO CORRECT CONDITIONS IN MEXICO.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 4.—One of the latest demands for the United States to interfere in the Mexican situation came in a resolution introduced in the House by William H. Murray, from Oklahoma, calling on President Wilson to use the army and navy to restore peace in the troubled zone.

Representative Murray is better known as "Alfalfa Bill" and sometimes as "The Sage of Tishomingo." He has made a study of the Mexican situation and avers that interference is unavoidable.

Murray, who was born in Texas, has had a remarkable career. When a boy he ran away from home. He has chopped cordwood, punched cattle, worked as a farm hand, edited and reported for newspapers, taught school, practiced law, and is now an extensive farmer and planter.

SALOON MAN'S PROTEST SCORED BY SUPERVISORS

'Dog in Manger' Is Term Applied to Schauer; Routine Work Considered

Fred Schauer, formerly a saloon man at Mount Eden, came in for a grilling at the Board of Supervisors' meeting today when he attempted to protest a license applied for in a place he formerly operated. Members of the board asserted that he was attempting "spite work."

Schauer protested on the ground that the place is within 300 feet of a school house. For 40 years, long before the schoolhouse was built, the saloon was there, and, as the license had not run out, the board was legally empowered to renew it.

"While we may legally renew this I am against a saloon near a school, so voted No," said chairman Mullins. Foss passed his vote, and the remainder of the board passed the license. The law provides that where a saloon existed before a school, and the license has not run out, it may be renewed.

The application was that of Jack Johanson, Mount Eden, for a liquor license, and was protested on the ground that the proposed saloon is within 300 feet of a school. Fred Schauer signed the protest.

"This may formerly have a license here, but now protests," declared Supervisor Bridge. "I don't like the looks of it. He lives fifteen miles away, anyhow, and is not positive of his facts."

"Well, the man keeps a white slave in his place, anyway," said the protestant.

"The matter has been heard before and a saloon has been allowed in the place for 40 years," said Bridge.

The protestant was in the saloon business in the location sought by Johanson until the first of last month. "This license has not expired, yet, so we can renew it under the law," said Murphy. "Mr. Schauer is not protesting in good faith, and I do not want to hear him at all. He has no facts and evidently his protest is one of personal spite. I am in favor of regulation, but not of aiding a dog in a manger." The license was granted and the protest ignored.

APPLICATIONS FILED.
Applications were heard from A. A. Lee, Alvarado, J. A. Easterday, Niles, T. C. Plank, Greenville, W. Graesslin, Decoto, and John C. Bonde, Dublin. Plank and Bonde were granted licenses, no protests being heard.

BUY ICE BOX.
The bid of Frank Law for an ice box at the county infirmary was accepted. The contract price is $500. Bids for papering and tinning in the courts of Superior Judges Brown and Harris were also received. The

AMBASSADOR REBELLION IS DISCUSSES PRACTICALLY AT END

Britain's Stand in Exposition Matter Is Topic of Conversation.

"Draw Own Conclusions," Says Assistant, When Asked Opinion.

DUBLIN, N. I., Aug. 4.—Great Britain's decision not to participate in the Panama-Pacific Exposition was discussed by the British ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, and his weekend guest, Dudley Field Malone, Malone is third assistant secretary of the British embassy, and arrived Saturday. Regarding his conference with the ambassador he said today:

"At a week in the state department is concerned with the Panama-Pacific Exposition. You may draw your own conclusions. I am here just as a week-end guest. I think it is not more unusual for an Irishman to visit a British ambassador than it is for a British ambassador to choose Dublin for his residence."

INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT; FINED

Real Estate Broker Cut by Glass and Then Punished by Court.

Hurled into the branches of a tree into which he collided with an automobile at Fourteenth and Harrison streets, Saturday night, Laurence E. Grimm, a local realty man, was cut by glass when he fell upon the windshield, and this morning he was fined $10 in the police court for driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Mr. Lyon of 184 Moss avenue, a San Francisco broker, who was driving with Grimm, was not injured, but was fined $5 because he shared conditions with his companion.

When the crash occurred the machine was reduced to wreckage, and $5000 in Solano school district bonds, which Lyon had carried in his pocket, were scattered about the pavement. The two men were picked up by H. A. Poole of 727 Fourteenth street and taken to the Emergency Hospital, where Grimm was treated by Steward Davidson. He had sustained a severe gash on his left cheek. Grimm resides at 654 Bella Vista avenue.

WHITE OAK DRILL TEAM GIVE ENJOYABLE PICNIC.
Fifty members of the White Oak drill team of the local lodge of Elks, were hosts yesterday to their wives, daughters and friends at a picnic at the local grove, Hayward. After a hearty basket luncheon, a baseball game was played between a team composed of nine wives of drill team members, and a team of daughters.

An indoor baseball was used, and after five thrilling innings had passed the score seemed such a hopelessly tied one, and the players appeared to be so evenly matched that play was stopped with three runs scored for each side. The committee in charge of the affair was composed of T. T. Moran, William Hammond, Otto Rittler, Parke Wilson and Charles Cox.

TO UNDERGO OPERATION FOR REMOVAL OF COIN.
PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 4.—Ronald Greenberg, three years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Greenberg, of this city, is about to undergo what the surgeons declare to be a rare operation, for the removal of a silver quarter, which he swallowed three weeks ago. The coin has been located in the child's stomach, and the operation it will be necessary to enter the chest cavity, pass the windpipe and make an incision in the esophagus through to remove the coin.

CHARGES VIOLIN RETAINED.
Joseph Garcia was arrested in Emeryville last night by Inspector Nettis on a charge of misdemeanor (embezzlement) for retaining possession of a violin loaned him by William Bracelles, 1474 Sixty-ninth street.

CLAIMS BALANCE DUE.
J. W. Amoth claims in a suit filed today against the Pig and Whistle company that he had been employed for six months to investigate every feature and department of the candy manufacturing business for the purpose of making report and suggestions for improvement at a stipend of $5000 in August, 1912, but that to date he has not been paid a balance of $1500 alleged due him.

REV. WM. DAY SIMONDS TRAVELING IN EUROPE.
Rev. William Day Simonds pastor of the First Unitarian church, is spending his vacation in Europe, as the guest of his congregation, a complimentary endorsement to him in recognition of his brilliant ministry and success in building up a strong parish.

ATTACHMENT IS MYSTERY.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—The identity of W. G. Campbell, who levied an attachment on the Oakland property of W. S. Tevis and R. G. Hanford, remains shrouded in mystery. Moreover, the persons in the $50,000 suit are sealed in the custody of the clerk of Presiding Judge Dunne's court, and all access to them has been refused. The attorney who filed the action is not known, and the name of the law firm is not known. It seems that all at sea over the matter. It seems that Campbell levied the attachment of the law forcing the county clerk to keep the action a secret until the return of the attachment has been made, but we certainly shall have been informed of the name of the attorney, so that we could have found out some facts.

MAN DIES ALONE IN HIS ROOM IN HOTEL.
George Byrne, who has been ill for many months and was recently removed from county infirmary five weeks ago, died alone in his room at the Italian hotel.

way of the man was found by Mario Nugoli, a cook in the place, and was removed to the morgue. Byrne was a laborer, 55 years of age.

REFUSES DIVORCE AND LOOKS FOR HAPPINESS.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—That a little child was holding together the slender threads which held its mother and father from going their separate ways, was the decision of Superior Judge Richards today, in denying a divorce to Rose O'Brien, who recently filed suit against William J. O'Brien. O'Brien was charged with drunkenness and with teaching his child improper language. He returned with the accusation that his wife was given to promiscuous attendance at dances and flirting with other men.

The judge, "This little youngster, whom you have together in your home, will likely bring about a happy household and seems so far to have been the only common ground between you."

THIRD VICTIM OF OWN MOTHER DIES

9-Year-Old Mary Brogan Succumbs to Terrible Wound Inflicted.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—Mary Brogan, 9 years old, the third victim of a crazed mother's knife, died today. The physicians knew there was no hope for the little girl whose throat had been slashed in a terrible manner, and the wonder was that she had lived since Sunday night when her mother, Mrs. John J. Brogan, cut the throats of three of her six children and killed herself.

One of the children, Thomas, 3 years old, died almost immediately, and the other two, Victor and Mary, were removed to the hospital. Victor died yesterday. Mrs. Brogan attempted to kill her 12-year-old son Joseph, but he evaded her and locked himself in a room.

Mrs. Brogan became insane as the result of a severe nervous breakdown.

Attempts Hanging; Rope Breaks; Dies of Fractured Skull

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4.—Attempted suicide by hanging resulted in death from a broken head in the case of Edward Schmidt, a wealthy property owner. Schmidt hanged himself today in the basement of his home here. The rope broke. He was found with a fractured skull from which he died. Schmidt was 71 years old and reported to be worth a half million dollars. The widow and a daughter are in Europe.

At Local Playhouses

MACDONOUGH

The claim made that the Kinemacolor natural color animated pictures of "The Making of the Panama Canal" and "Scenes of the Russian War," together with other features, presented last night at the Macdonough Theater, form the very best in the field of motion photography, was fully substantiated and endorsed by the large audience that filled the theater, and tendered vigorous applause to the many interesting scenes as displayed by the Kinemacolor process.

The scenes of the Russian War, that opened the program, created a riot between the factions of the Ukrainians and Bulgarians who crowded the upper seats of the theater. As the various renditions and warships came into view, all residents in color cheers and counter demonstrations arose from the former of the two factions, and every thing, however, ended happily. These war

ORPHEUM.

Irene Franklin, a very, very funny woman, was at the Orpheum yesterday. We had heard quite a good deal of this comedienne but as the world has been saturated with just such ladies for the last few years, we had to be shown that there was something unusual. Miss Franklin was unusual—extremely so. She had the audience with her before two minutes had passed, and by the time the whole act was over, encore after encore was demanded—and how after how had to be made before the hungry people out on the other side of the footlights would allow the show to continue—in the slang of the theater, "she knocked 'em off their seats." As a mimic, a student of type and a character singer, no one along the whole Orpheum circuit, or any other, for that matter, can equal Miss Franklin. But George helped with his piano playing.

remarkable in every way.

The Kinemacolor pictures of "The Making of the Panama Canal," taken for the United States Government, show the process of the building of the great Isthmian waterway and give a most vivid idea of the work that is to link two oceans. "The War Manoeuvres of the Japanese Army" is another interesting feature of the program, while the scenes of "The U. S. Navy in Review" arouse the patriotism and enthusiasm of every audience. The program is a presentation of the great battleships that will soon pass through the Panama Canal. PANTAGES

Olga Samoroff, violinist, and her husband, the pianist, opened the Pantages yesterday when the new bill at the Pantages opened for the week. The act is one seldom seen in vaudeville, consisting of the rendition of classical music by remarkably talented players. Miss Samoroff, who received her musical education in the conservatory at Moscow, has that same command over her violin that has made Maude Powell famous, and is able to play a solo of more than 100 measures in a single breath.

The second big headline is "Hiram," Fred Astaire's famous musical comedy, which is one of the funniest in the list of attractions.

Don La Brea, billed as the "singing bachelorette," renders songs and produces a heavy auto race. The lady has a better voice than her daddy, and scored a tremendous hit. Will H. Armstrong, in "The New Expressman," Dale and Robertson, in jokes and songs; Howard and Dolores in ragtime; Willie Hamilton, the acrobat; and the Southern Eastern acrobats, round out the bill.

COLUMBIA.

"The Affinities" is the latest scream with music to be presented by Dillon and King at the Columbia. The adventures of Mike and Ike provoke considerable mirth. The action hinges on the matrimonial tangle of Ike, and the trials and tribulations surrounding this and a wild auto ride, ending in an accident. The principal part of the show is the comedy, the plot is nil. Catchy music helps the mixture to go down, and on the whole the new show is about as big a hit as any ever presented at the Tenth street house.

Mabel Fitzpatrick made her first appearance in a speaking part yesterday in a charming little lugenue Jack Wire, a new addition to the company, also made his bow. Maude Beatty, Ernest Van Pelt, Blanche Trelease, Max Stone and the Ginger Girls, were all on hand. Var. Pelt introduced his famous comedy, "The Twenty-five Encores." Many one-act successes are rendered by Miss Trelease, Jack Wire, Clarence Wurdig, Al West and the chorus. The piece will run all week.

Rare Creature From Habitat of Greenwood Lake Proves "BUNK"

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Peter Garrigan, who runs an elevator in the Borough hall, New Brighton, Staten Island, spent two weeks prospecting for big game at Greenwood Lake. Before he started he had promised all his friends in the municipal building some trophy of the hunt. William E. Corey, Garrigan's closest friend, employed in the Richmond district attorney's office, received from Peter a mysterious box said to contain that rarest of wild animals, the Greenwood Lake katydid.

"Watch it carefully," advised Garrigan. "They told me in the country that it was a wonderful specimen. I caught it myself."

Corey took the box home. Friends gathered to see it and watched with open mouths the strange antics of the green little creature in the box. That is, they watched it until some one discovered its picture in the back of the dictionary. The illustration was labeled "wooden tree toad."

A movement was started at New Brighton for a natural history museum. Corey and Garrigan headed the list of petitioners.

SEPARATION FROM HIS WIFE CAUSE OF SUICIDE

Realty Man Ends Life in Room at Hotel Oakland by Poisoning.

Writes Farewell Letters to Wife, Sister and Hotel Management.

Grieving over separation from his wife as a result of domestic differences, William M. Rhodes, a real estate man of San Francisco, committed suicide yesterday in an apartment in the Hotel Oakland, by drinking a glass of whisky continued. His death was heard by occupants of the next apartment and a telephone message summoned Head Clerk Downes, who broke into the room and discovered the body. After a preliminary examination by Dr. Eva Harris, a guest, Deputy Coroner Bert Sargent was summoned and he immediately pronounced death due to poisoning.

Three letters, with the ink still damp, were found on the table. One was addressed to his wife, who is manager of a linen and designing firm in Post street, San Francisco, and clearly indicated a determination on the part of the writer to kill himself. The second note was addressed to Miss Katherine Rhodes Hamilton, Madison county, New York, sister of the man, and was written in the same vein as the other. The third letter was to the hotel management, in which he wished to convey the impression that death was due to natural causes, however writing that he was the victim of frequent attacks of heart trouble. He asked that his physician in San Francisco be notified if anything should occur that would warrant summoning a medical adviser.

WRITES TO WIFE. The lines to his wife were steeped with sorrow and despondency at the separation. He tells of the darkness of the future for him and a determination to end his life. The note reads as follows: "My Own Dear Lady—The last few months have been unhappy ones for me and cruel ones for you both. And I see no future brightness, for, with the realization that I no longer have your real love and companionship, all my energies and ambition seem to have been sapped and only an intense bitterness and unrest remain."

"I have written home that I am going on a long journey, a journey they will write and ask you to write them, for they love you. I know you are worthy of their love and affection."

"I hope you can read this, but the old foolish tears will spill over so I can hardly see the penned words."

"Oh, my dear, dear one, the happiest years of my life were with you, my darling sweetest wife. BILLIE."

"ON LONG JOURNEY." The letter to his sister is as follows: "My Dearest Maureen—Katherine Kate—I am going on a long journey. I know you will be grieved to hear that the dear little 'Frau' and I don't seem to hit it off at all well together the last few months. I simply cannot adjust myself to be without her complete love and companionship. I am going."

"Won't you write her one of your own, loving letters and perhaps she would make you a visit this fall. I know my faults are legion and she is worthy of all your love and affection. In great distress, your loving brother, WILLIE."

Rhodes was the head of the William Rhodes Real Estate Company with headquarters in the Russ building, San Francisco. He rented the room at the Oakland Hotel late Saturday night. The remains were removed to the morgue. Mrs. Rhodes was notified.

GREEKS PETITION FOR RELEASE OF VALLIANOS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—An appeal of the Greek societies of this city filed petitions with Superior Judge Lawlor this morning asking for the release on probation of Nick Vallianos, former Greek interpreter convicted of grand larceny for the alleged attempt to extort money from defendants arrested on misdemeanor charges.

The Associated Charities have also taken up appeals for Vallianos and Judge Lawlor continued the matter for further consideration until 4 o'clock this afternoon.

BURGLAR WAS BUSY DURING HER SHOPPING

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Mrs. R. Hellmann, of 2812 California street, returned home after a morning shopping tour today and believed she heard a man in the dining-room. A short time later she took courage and entered the room to find all of the family silver bundled in a sack. The burglar was not seen, and the burglar had evidently been scared off by her approach.

BOYS DROWNED WHILE BATHING

Two Caught in Current; One Dies at Baker's Beach.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Caught in the powerful undertow, three boys were drowned yesterday afternoon, two of them losing their lives in the ocean opposite the Crest, a roadhouse, and the other at Baker's Beach, at the foot of Thirtieth avenue.

Those drowned in the ocean were George Garcia and Narciso Leiva, both 15 years old. They had gone in swimming together.

Rupert Hardy, 14 years old, living with his mother at 254 Thirtieth avenue, was the victim at Baker's Beach. He had been in swimming with other boys when he got caught in the current and was carried out by the current.

Garcia, living at 544 Vallejo street, and Leiva, of 49 John street, were accompanied in bathing by George and Earl DeVore, 1675 Fort-eighth street, and Russell Rush, 1411 Stockton street. Garcia and Leiva ventured several yards further out than the other youngsters, when they were suddenly caught by a sweeping undertow and sucked beneath the surface. Earl DeVore made heroic efforts to rescue his companions, but without avail.

Captain Nelson of the Golden Gate Life Saving Station and his men responded to a call going to the beach in an automobile. Life savers with the aid of a fire went into the water, but no trace of the bodies was found. Later Captain Nelson and his men brought a lifeboat from the station and for two hours efforts were made to find the bodies by means of grab hooks.

Life savers from the Fort Point Station went to Baker's Beach some time after the drowning, but were unable to find the bodies.

OSGOOD PELL IS KILLED BY AUTO

Guest of Vanderbilt Dies When Train Hits Big Car.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Osgood Pell, millionaire real estate man and society leader, and his chauffeur, were instantly killed last night by a Long Island railroad train, which struck Pell's automobile about a mile west of Long Beach. Mr. Pell was driving a big touring car, in the same car, were badly injured, and Lamber is likely to die.

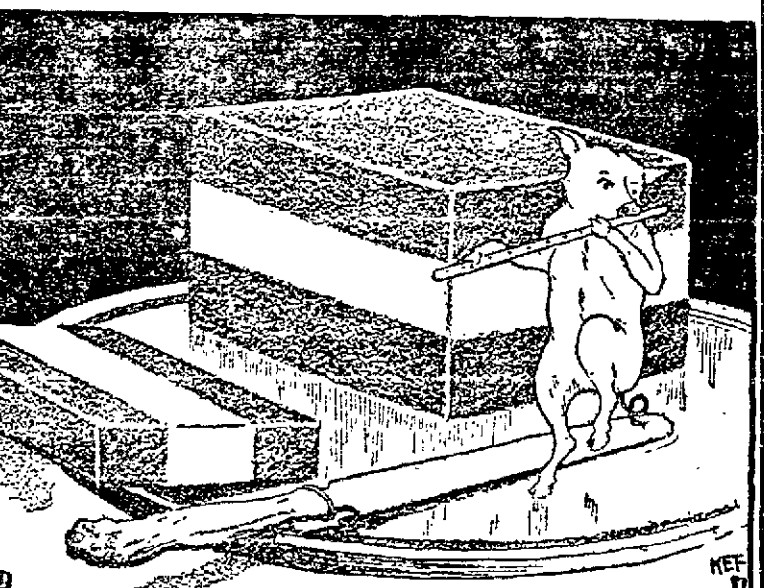

William K. Vanderbilt Jr. was in an automobile with Mrs. Pell about fifty feet in front of Pell's car. Vanderbilt realized what had happened, and his first thought was for Mrs. Pell. He drove on some distance and then quickly remarked to Mrs. Pell that he guessed something had happened to her husband's car. Mrs. Pell looked back and saw the wreck. Mr. and Mrs. Pell and Mr. and Mrs. Lamber drove over to their country estate on Long Island yesterday afternoon to be the guests of Vanderbilt at Nassau Hotel at a dinner, and were returning when the accident occurred.

Pell and his chauffeur were on the front seat and got the full force of the locomotive's blow and were badly crushed. Lamber and his wife were thrown through the air and rolled into the ditch beside the track.

Lamber is dying with a fractured skull, and Mrs. Lamber has a broken leg and collar bone, but will recover. The body of a struck due having been running at the time.

Garcia and Leiva were caught by the undertow at almost the same point where Peter Weniger, a liquor dealer, and John Hanley of Sutter and Scott streets were drowned several years ago.
